

I believe the do not call list should be strictly enforced. I believe that this should be in effect for any business, even those who have done business with people recently. We do not need telemarketers of any kind hassleing us over the phone regardless of the reason. I think we have all had enough of these annoying phone calls.